The Vulnerability, Trauma, Resilience and Culture Research Laboratory (V-TRaC) directed by Dr. Jude Mary Cénat is pursuing a research program with youth and adults. The V-TRaC Research Lab studies the impact of vulnerability, mental health disparities and trauma in relation to coping and resilience strategies. Our research aims to integrate clinical, developmental, individual, community, family, social and cultural factors in order to develop assessment, prevention and intervention tools that meet the real needs of individuals and communities.

As part of the funded project "Black Communities Mental Health in the National Capital Region: Evaluation, Prevention and Intervention Tools", the V-TRaC Lab is seeking applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship, with the possibility of renewal based on performance. The successful candidate will receive a fellowship of approximately $45,000, plus benefits.

Conditions of eligibility

- Doctoral degree in psychology (Ph.D. or Psy.D.) or a relevant related discipline obtained within the last three years or in the process of obtaining it;
- Evidence of excellent research skills and experience in writing scientific articles;
- Extensive experience in multivariate and longitudinal analyses and use of statistical software (SPSS, MPlus or R);
- Extensive experience conducting systematic literature reviews and meta-analyses, an asset;
- Fluency in English and French (spoken and written).
Postdoctoral fellowship conditions

- Duration of 12 months;
- Start date as soon as possible;
- To be conducted at the V-TRaC research Lab at the School of Psychology at the University of Ottawa;
- Submission at least three articles in peer-reviewed scientific journals;
- Assisting in the supervision of undergraduate and graduate students in the V-TRaC Lab;
- Participating in the analysis of data and the dissemination of the project results;
- Contributing to the creation of content for an awareness campaign

Application Requirements

- A cover letter
- Curriculum vitae, an academic transcript of the Ph.D. program and a one-page summary of the Ph.D. thesis
- Copy of scientific publications and manuscripts submitted for publication
- A letter of recommendation from the Ph.D. supervisor submitted directly to jcenat@uottawa.ca

We encourage people from diverse backgrounds to apply for this position.

Application deadline: May 29, 2020

Applications must be submitted by email to:

Jude Mary Cénat, Ph.D.
School of Psychology
University of Ottawa
jcenat@uottawa.ca
cc to: vtrac@uottawa.ca
cc to: pnoor033@uottawa.ca

For further information about the project, please visit the V-TRaC Lab website:
https://socialsciences.uottawa.ca/vulnerability-trauma-resilience-culture-research-laboratory/